Race Preview: Real War (3) started a short-priced favourite for Dean Kannemeyer at just his second outing but finished a distant fourth behind Luneluck. He was ridden by an inexperience apprentice on that occasion and Craig Zackey takes over in the saddle. I Salute You (11) will prove a threat. He has shown up well of Peter Muscutt in two outings and had a testing draw last time out. Good Living (8) has been knocking on the door for some time now and has been improving slowly. Greenlight Express (14) found some market support last run but was never in the hunt. He does appear better than that showing.

Race Preview: Tricky maiden with thin form to go on. However, Gary Rich could have the answer in Blind Speed (9). The daughter of New Predator has improved with every outing and was running on well over course and distance last time out. She has a big chance if she can build on that effort. Yellow Jacket (11) will test them all. Kom Naidoo likes his runners to go forward and she was staying on nicely from a tough draw last time out. These two look the form principals. Twilight Bay (2) is likely to come on from her debut effort for Mike Miller while Queen Of The Air (6) is a regally bred first timer and one to watch in the market.

Race Preview: My Boy Lollipop (11) has shown up well in some competitive maidens and should be able to make it into the winner's enclosure. One Scotch (13) showed up nicely on debut from a deep Hollywoodbets Greyville draw on debut and he should come on nicely with the experience. Dark horse could be Glen Kotzen's runner Boom Shakalaka (10). He made a fair Kenilworth debut, but that was back in January. He was not friendless in the betting that afternoon so it may pay to keep an eye on the market. Green Mile (8) steps out for his third run after a big break between his first and second outings.

Race Preview: Bella's Pablo (2) has taken time to come to hand for Peter Muscutt but the gelding's form has improved since arriving back from the Cape. He stays the trip well and knows the course which is all in his favour. Off The Charts (3) has only his third outing but caught the eye last time out when going the mile in first time blinkers. Given his pedigree Paul Lafferty's colt should enjoy every yard of this trip. Amigo (7) has been a late starter for Louis Goosen but made marked improvement last run. Tibbott Bourke (8) has yet to run a bad race and the step up in trip could now be what the four-year-old is looking for.

Race Preview: Although Master Of Destiny (6) carries top weight, he is never far back in any of his races and he can follow up in this company. Aberdeen (3) has done well on this course in the past and on his best showing he must have a strong chance. French Trip (9) was only a maiden winner last run but that was his first outing for Duncan Howells and he won readily. Global Movement (5) is obviously rock sound, this being his fourth outing in just twenty days, but Tienie Prinsloo was champion trainer in Kimberley where horses raced every other week on the dirt.

Race Preview: Lunarcam (10) is super quick and goes well over course and distance. He should be involved in the finish whichever way it goes. Gareth van Zyl has two live runners in Shipholia (9) and Luhamba Phambili (7). The latter got a hefty rating after his debut win but comes into this race with only 52kg to shoulder. He looks progressive and any market support must be taken seriously. Shipholia is seldom far back and cannot be written off lightly. Donquerari (8) ran a cracker for Louis Goosen from a tough draw last time out. He must also have a winning chance in this line-up.

Race Preview: Rafeef's Choice (2) is now 2.5kg better off with her recent conqueror Emerald Green (5) and should be able to turn the tables even though she was two lengths behind Louis Goosen's filly who was overdue that win. One Smart Cookie (9) has won twice on this course in her last three starts, her only blip being in soft ground. She is a kilo better off with Emerald Green on their last meeting and if fit and well she must have a strong winning chance. Lucretius (12) was lumped with a big rating after her maiden win but she shed her maiden over course and distance and is one to watch in the market.

Race Preview: Music Is Life (13) recent form has been on the poly but he looks more than capable of recording his second win in this line-up. Teatime Tipple (6) should feature given his current form. Happy Wanderer (12) has not been far back in recent outings and went close when taking on weaker last start. However, he only has 48kg to shoulder which should make him competitive. Alec Laird is soon to head back to home base on the Highveld but can sign off with Copper John (14) who was running on well when fitted with first-time cheek pieces. He could well be better suited to this trip.
